

Final Proposed Solution

Amend the following DN's in the R3.1 Implementation Guide

ACCIDENT SITE CITY – DN0121

Definition: The city where the accident or injury occurred.

DP Rule (Current): Accident Site City cannot be required but may be sent when Accident Site Location Narrative is used.

DP Rule (New): Accident Site City can be required with Accident Site Organization Name or Location Narrative. OR strike DP Rule all together.

ACCIDENT SITE COUNTRY CODE – DN0280

Definition: A code to indicate the country where the accident or injury occurred.

Values: See link to code list on EDI Standard References page of IAIABC website:

www.iaiabc.org.

DP Rule (Current): Accident Site Country Code cannot be required but may be sent when Accident Site Location Narrative is used. Not required unless other than US....

DP Rule (Proposed): Accident Site Country Code can be required (if other than US or if Acc Site State is blank) with Accident Site Organization Name or Location Narrative. Not required unless other than US....

ACCIDENT SITE COUNTY/PARISH – DN0118 (no proposed changes)

Definition: The county or parish where the accident or injury occurred.

ACCIDENT SITE LOCATION NARRATIVE – DN0119

Definition: A free form text field describing the address of the accident when the location is not post office identifiable.

DP Rule (Current): Either an Accident Site Organization Name and physical address or an Accident Site Location Narrative can be required, but not both. Enough information must be sent to sufficiently identify the site. Accident Site Location Narrative cannot be required but may be sent when a full Accident Site Street/City/State/Postal Code/Country is used. A partial address (one or more of Accident Site Street/City/State/Postal Code/Country) is allowed with Accident Site Location Narrative. For example, an Accident Site City and State may be sent without a street address or postal code when the Accident Site Location Narrative is sent.

DP Rule (Proposed): Either an Accident Site Organization Name and physical address or an Accident Site Location Narrative, and Accident Site City/State/Postal Code/and Country Code (if applicable) can be required, but not both. Enough information must be sent to sufficiently identify the site. Accident Site Location Narrative cannot be required but may be sent when a full Accident Site Street/City/State/Postal Code/Country (if applicable) is used. A partial address (Accident Site Street) is also allowed with Accident Site Location Narrative, but cannot be required.

ACCIDENT SITE ORGANIZATION NAME – DN0120 (no proposed changes)

Definition: The name of the entity corresponding to the premises where the accident occurred.

DP Rule: If Accident Premises Code is equal to “L” or “E”, then Accident Site Organization Name can be required. If Accident Premises Code is equal to “X”, Accident Site Organization Name may be sent but cannot be required.

ACCIDENT SITE POSTAL CODE – DN0033

Definition: The postal code for the location where the accident or injury occurred.

DP Rule (Current): For the United States and its territories, this will be the USPS zip code. For non-U.S. and its territories, refer to each country’s postal code list. Accident Site Postal Code cannot be required but may be sent when Accident Site Location Narrative is used.

DP Rule (Proposed): For the United States and its territories, this will be the USPS zip code. For non-U.S. and its territories, refer to each country’s postal code list. Accident Site Postal Code can be required with Accident Site Organization Name or Location Narrative.

ACCIDENT SITE STATE CODE – DN0123

Definition: A code to indicate the state where the accident or injury occurred.

Values: See link to code list on EDI Standard References page of IAIABC website: www.iaiaabc.org.

DP Rule (Current): Accident Site State Code cannot be required when Accident Site Location Narrative is used.

DP Rule (Proposed): Accident Site State Code can be required with Accident Site Organization Name or Location Narrative, unless Accident Site Country Code is present and equal to a country code other than US, MX or CA. Countries other than US, MX or CA do not always have the equivalent of a “State” code in their address.

ACCIDENT SITE STREET – DN0122 (no proposed changes)

Definition: The street address where the accident or injury occurred.

DP Rule: Accident Site Street cannot be required but may be sent when Accident Site Location Narrative is used.
